A NOTE FROM THE PRINCIPAL

Dear Parents,

I trust that everyone had an opportunity last week to read the tentative re-opening plans for Divine Savior School. I would like to reiterate that if you have any questions or concerns about the plan to please send me an email. The plan will be reviewed in a couple of weeks and changes made if necessary, based on the situation then.

Last week I wrote about an opportunity to have violin lessons at school this Fall. The program needs a minimum of five students so if your child is interested, please contact me this week to express your interest.

I am still looking for a part-time academic aide. If you or anyone you know is interested, please contact the school office. Application forms are found on the school website.

I am also still seeking parents who would be willing to help in school if needed due to a teacher being quarantined. If you are able to help, please let me know what days you are available.

The school office will have limited hours the next two weeks due to some building improvements. The hallway that is currently tiled will be retiled this week and waxed next week. The carpeted area of the hallway by the 4K and 5K rooms is being re-carpeted next week as well. The carpeting on the landing between the first and second floor has been removed and will be tiled later this week.

Don't forget to check out the on-line auction that is currently in progress. Thank you to everyone on the auction committee for the time and effort that was put into making this a reality. And thank you to everyone for supporting the auction through bids and raffle purchases.

The diocese has mandated that all employees and volunteers in the school building wear a mask or face protection. If you need to stop at school or the day care, you will notice these protections in place. You too will be asked to wear a face mask unless the visit is very brief. With all the bad and uncertain news circulating about the pandemic, it is wonderful to be able to end this newsletter with some good news! Mrs. Binversie gave birth to twin boys. Everyone is healthy and doing fine! Please keep them in your prayers.

Together in Christ,

Kerry Sievert
